AL FRESCO DINING Experience ...

The term "al fresco" comes from the Italian language and loosely translated means "in fresh air." Dining alfresco simply means eating outside, but it's not your regular picnic on the blanket, this type of dining usually involves refined tablescapes, comfortable seating and a generally more party-like atmosphere.

Summer's in full swing and what better way to enjoy the cheerful weather than by spending as much time outdoors as possible? One of our favorite summer pastime activities is having a picnic in nature or going to outdoors restaurants. So much so that we've decided to fuse two into one and try our hand at alfresco dining, LONDON Park Avenue.

We all love patios – whether we're building one or enjoying a nice, relaxing evening on one. We've inspired many shop houses owners design and create their very own patio to complement their lifestyle.

Mother nature provides its own ambiance and great views. Plus, when the weather is beautiful, your diners feel more festive. We are passionate about your space and love it most when it's filled with friends and family who have come together to spend time with each other in your hidden gem garden oasis, only at hidden patio, LONDON Park Avenue.
